

WEBER Dominique

(1824 - 1889) <sup>1</sup>

Leudelange

Biography

Dominique WEBER was born in Leudelange in 1824. His father was a Förster.

Dominique made his maréchal ferrant apprenticeship outside of Luxembourg (see below) and subsequently returned to Leudelange.

Together with his older brother Jean, Dominique invented a novel plough. The two brothers filed a patent application on 14 March 1849 as co-inventors.

After examination they obtained a patent on 9 October 1849.

The WEBER brothers left Leudelange and each established his own workshop, Dominique in Sandweiler and Jean in Reckange-sur-Mess.

Dominique WEBER died in 1889 in Sandweiler.

---

<sup>1</sup> FamilySearch database (G7ZN-Q7P)